If you have an allergy or dietary preference please let your server know. We do process gluten in this facility so there is always a chance of slight cross contamination, if you’re concerned let your server know to recommend the safest possible meal. Because of additional labor and sometimes more expensive ingredients, there may be an additional fee on your bill.

All of our food is cooked “to order” by your server and our kitchen staff, to ensure you receive the freshest, hottest food possible. Please be aware that this may take longer than expected, especially during our very busy periods. Thank you.
